CLEANSING SERIES

While creating the Helia-D Cleansing series we have never lost sight of the fundamental truth of beauty care that the success of the skin care treatment starts with throughout cleansing. The cleansing series is not only important for the natural regeneration of the skin, but it helps with the absorption of beauty care products used subsequently.

HYALURON SERIES

This special series ensures the hydration of the different layers of the skin, prevents the premature aging of the cells, delays the appearance of wrinkles and reduces existing ones.

Hyaluronic acid is an essential component in our cells, just like a mesh it connects and fills up the inter cell area in the connective tissue, this ensures the elasticity and firmness of the skin. As we age, the hyaluron production of the body slows down. After the age of 40 the Hyaluronic acid production falls to half, and by 60 the Hyaluronic acid content of the skin is only 10% of its original amount.

We have combined Hyaluronic acid with:

- Matrixyl 3000 peptide
- Argan stem cells
- Common Comfrey Stem Cell

Our products contain Hyaluronic acid in various molecule sizes. It has a moisturising and stimulating effect in the upper layers of the skin, and it enters the skin structure in the deeper layers. Matrixyl 3000 peptide controls the collagen production, its molecule size allows it to enter the skin deeper than plain proteins.

Hyaluronic Gel

Makes the skin firmer, smoother and more hydrated

Light texture gel with hyaluronic acid and Matrixyl 3000 peptide that visibly improve the skin's texture. The Hyaluronic Gel can be used for ultrasonic treatment alone or in combination with Hyaluron Cocktail Ampoule. Quickly absorbed into skin, the skin will become visibly smoother and firmer. MESOTHERAPY SERIES

In our mesotherapy series we have used the findings of the newest cosmetic research. We use peptides and anti-wrinkle ingredients that provide visible success during non-needle mesotherapy treatments. We choose Progeline™ and Adipofill'in™, which won the prize for most innovative cosmetic active ingredient in 2012. Adipofill'in™ stimulates the growth of the fatty layer under the skin, which reduces the depth of the wrinkles. During the research a group of volunteers between the ages 40-60 was tested, they used Adipofill'in™ twice every day for 2 months. The results: the roughness of the wrinkles was reduced by 27% and their depth by 35%.

Progeline™ is a peptide that significantly reduces the progerin production, which was identified as one possible cause for skin aging. The battle against aging is not only about fighting the signs of aging, but delaying of the aging process. Adipofill'in™ and Progeline™ can enter the deeper layers of the cells with the help of a plant-derived stem cell, where they start rebuilding, slow down the aging of the skin, and this way have a rejuvenating effect, they:

- promote the regeneration of skin cells,
- significantly reduce the depth of wrinkles,
- promote collagen production.

Vitamin C and Enzym Peeling

Removes dead skin cells - recommended together with the Magic Algae Mask

A keratin based enzymatic peeling product, which contains a high dose of Vitamin C. Its special feature is the micro-capsulated Keratoclean®PB, which dissolves the top layer of the epidermis without irritation, and by doing so it softens the skin and assists cell rejuvenation and the deeper penetration of active ingredients. The vitamin C content promotes the production of collagen. Because of its Cream-like consistency it is easy to use during a massage; it is absorbed into the skin well. As a result, the skin becomes visibly smoother, it becomes silky to the touch and more elastic. We recommend it as a brief pre-treatment before mesotherapy, or any other cosmetic therapy, for all skin types. Whether used by itself or with the Magic Algae Mask, wash it off thoroughly after the 10-15 minutes of treatment time.

Active ingredients: Keratoclean® PB – peeling enzyme, Ascorbic acid (vitamin C), lactic acid, marigold oil, Shea-butter.

WINE THERAPY SERIES

When creating our products we have used a Hungarian speciality, the silky and dense tokaji aszú wine. The tokaji essence is the juice slowly pressed out from the aszú-grapes by their own weight, which mainly contains sugars, amino acids and vitamins. By adding tokaji aszú and the essence to the cosmetic products, we increase the hydrating effect of the cosmetics, which is beneficial to the metabolism of the skin and improves blood circulation. All beneficial effects of the tokaji aszú and the essence are present in the Helia-D Wine Therapy Series.

Hungarian patent No. 178786 used for developing the products is based on the realisation that adding tokaji aszú and tokaji essence to the traditional ingredients of cosmetic products increases the moisturising effect of the product, they have a positive effect on the metabolism of the skin, improve blood flow, nourish the skin, improve the skin tone, have a disinfectant effect and reinforce the epidermis. (Source: 178786 patent description)

Among the substances present in the tokaji aszú wines in a larger amount, there is a significant, often more than 10 time difference compared to other wines regarding glycerine and organic acid. There are many biologically important substances present in small quantities that are completely missing from other wines or are only present in really small quantities.

The owners of Helia-D are devoted fans of the Tokaji wines and winemaking, they are the founding members of the Mádi Kör Eredetvédelmi Egyesület, so this series realises a long held dream and obligation.

Ameliox

An oil solution of a liposome and an antioxidant that also contains carnosin, silymarin and tocoferol. During use a slow, natural process happens that has a positive effect on the skin texture and the protein activity. The substance helps supplement and maintain the collagen and elastin content of the skin, the reduction of which leads to loss of elasticity and premature aging of the skin.

Common Comfrey Stem Cell (Phytocelltech Synphytum)

This is a powder extract made from the roots of the common comfrey with a special technology. It ensures the production of epidermic stem cells that help the creation of younger cells and ensure the continuous and ideal hyaluron content of the skin. It helps the creation of continuous, new epidermis layers that results in a uniform, matte skin tone.

Gladback™

Polysaccharides isolated from the Chinese Poria coccinea mushroom act similarly to the retinol, they effectively delay the aging processes of mature skin.

Mud from Héviz

This natural treasure is rich in minerals and its positive effect on the skin is well known. Excellent for detoxicating, cleanses the skin, increases blood flow, and reduces the oiliness of the skin. It has a known wound healing and anti-inflammation effect, moreover it's an excellent solution for cellulite.

The main active ingredients are oligosaccharide, isolated from seaweed, and an extract from the root of tara tree. It helps restore the balance of skin. Strengthens the skin’s matrix structure.

Hydromanil

Effective natural hydrating substance from the roots of the South-African tara tree. Captures and retains water in order to assimilate it into the deeper layers of the skin. Thanks to the applying it to the skin with a multi-capillary technology, its effect is rapid and lasting.

Corn germ oil

Primrose oil

A skin softening and nourishing oil rich in fatty acid Omega-3 and Omgea-6, relieves allergic eczema and has a strong anti-wrinkle effect.

Mastic tree resin

There are large amounts of minerals in the Mastic tree, which are responsible for the smoothness of the skin. These minerals act as antioxidants, activate several enzymes, produce collagen, regulate sebum production and promote cell regeneration.

Matrixyl 3000

A peptide combination (Palmitoyl Tripeptide-1(1), Palmitoyl Tetrapeptide-7), that aids the smoothing out of the wrinkles and improves the elasticity and colour of the skin. These peptides are able to regulate cell creation and the interaction of the cells with specific receptors. They try to activate genes, and help the renewal of the extracellular matrix and the proliferation of the cells, which mechanisms become weaker as time goes on.

Sunflower-stalk extract

The sunflower is a special plant, as its light, slim stem is able to support the heavy flower/crop without breaking; but at the same time the stem is so flexible that it’s able to follow the direction of the sun, yet the plant’s cells are not damaged in all these processes. These features are due to the compound - auxin. Strength and flexibility are the basic characteristics of youthful skin. Helia-D has created a whole product family for products with the beneficial effects of the Sunflower.

Naringenin

A flavonoid that reduces the chronic redness of skin, also has anti-inflammatory properties and it’s recommended for the treatment of rosacea skin.

Progeline™

Progeline™ is a peptide that significantly reduces the progerin production, which was identified as one possible cause for skin aging.

Shea butter

A natural substance that makes the skin smoother, softens wrinkles, prevents skin irritation and reduces acne. Its vitamin E and beta-carotene content has a skin softening, regenerating effect. It increases the effects of other active ingredients, e.g. protection from the sun.

Tens’up

Thanks to the high oligosaccharide content of chicory, Tens’up has an immediate and long lasting firming effect on the skin, even after one use. With continued use it promotes collagen production, which has an anti-aging effect.

Tokaji Aszú and essence

The tokaji essence is the juice slowly pressed out from the aszú-grapes by their own weight that retains its beneficial effects when added to cosmetics. The essence mainly contains sugars, amino-acids and vitamins, but its main effect is that it increases the effectiveness of the cosmetics it is added to. It has a positive effect on the metabolism of the skin, improves blood flow and has a disinfectant effect. Helia-D has created a whole product line for products with the beneficial effects of Tokaji Aszú and essence.

Zirhafirm

With two Asian active ingredients Zirhafirm strengthens intercellular union to keep the skin tight. These active ingredients have an antioxidant and anti-inflammatory effect.
